Student Learning Outcomes:

Upon completion of our program, and allowing for minor second language errors that do not interfere with meaning, students will be able to communicate successfully orally and in writing. They will comprehend written and spoken language at the college level and they will demonstrate that ability through the following tasks:

- identify and use the grammatical elements of college-level standard English to write an essay using academic level vocabulary
- read a novel at the adult level and respond orally and in writing to fictional elements such as character, plot and theme
- write an outline for and answer detailed questions about academic lectures and news broadcasts and summarize lectures, literary and non-literary works orally and in writing
- participate in a group discussion using appropriate social and linguistic forms to join an ongoing discussion, add information, disagree, agree and summarize in both academic and professional settings on a variety of concrete and abstract topics
- and produce speech which is intelligible and accurately articulated.

Students will identify with aspects of American culture and values and will become increasingly acculturated to life in the United States. Students will gain confidence in communicating in English.

Students will be assessed through written and oral quizzes and exams and graded in-class writing.

Modes of Study:

ENGLISH AS A SECOND LANGUAGE COURSE OFFERINGS

• It is very important to study both oral and written English so people can understand you when you speak as well as when you write. For this reason, in Levels 950, 960 and 970, students are encouraged to complete all three strands in that series before moving up to the next series. At levels 950, 960 and 970, reading and writing are combined into one 5-unit course, and grammar and listening/speaking are separate 3-unit courses.

• The ESL department has developed these courses to help you become proficient in English so you can compete successfully with native speakers in classes in your major field and at work.

• After taking the 970 level courses, students will move into English 905 without a placement test.
