

MISSION COLLEGE SPEAKER SERIES

SPONSORED BY MC²IT + FREE TO THE PUBLIC

Speaker: Sean Knapp, Co-Founder, CTO and President of Technology, Ooyala, Mountain View, California

Date: March 7, 2012

Time: 7:00 pm

Place: TAV 130 Mission College, Mission College Blvd, Santa Clara, CA.

Bio: Sean Knapp is a co-founder of Ooyala. As CTO and President of Technology, he oversees all engineering and helps define and execute Ooyala's product strategies.

Before founding Ooyala, Sean worked at Google, where he developed and launched iGoogle, the company's popular, customizable home page. He also was a tech lead for Google's legendary Web Search team, helping that team increase Google revenues by $1B. Sean has both B.S. and M.S. degrees in Computer Science from Stanford University. He is a member of Ooyala's board of directors.

Topic Sound Bite: From a large company to a start-up, a not so uncommon transition in Silicon Valley

Ooyala was founded to unleash the true power of online video for publishers everywhere. Today they power video for some of the biggest and most forward-looking media companies and consumer brands on the planet.

Attend this event and you will learn:

- How to transition from a large established company to a start-up
- What being an entrepreneur is really like
- What is involved in being on a board of directors at a start-up
